MOUNT LAWLEY GOLF CLUB

The Mount Lawley Golf Club was established in 1928 and is located on 79 hectares of gently undulating natural bushland, approximately 5 kilometres north of the Perth CBD.

The Great Depression affected the early development of the club and when the course was officially opened for play in 1930, only ten holes had been developed. It was a further six years before the course was extended to the full 18 holes. In the Scottish tradition, each of the holes were named and it is a part of the club's culture to refer to holes by name rather than number. Names such as Boomerang, Bunker Hill, Western Bend, Plateau, Clottie's Elbow and Long Straight give indications to the character of a hole; whilst Paperbark, Pumphouse and Roadway refer to adjacent features. The club's signature hole is Commonwealth, a short downhill par three with a green shaped like Australia and a flagstick adorned by the national flag.

The layout has stood the test of time, remaining largely unchanged through the years. Measuring 6124 metres, with a par of 72 and an ACR of 73, Mount Lawley demands proficiency with the use of every club in the bag.

Members enjoy quality couch fairways all year round and affectionately refer to the rough as 'the velcro' for reasons that quickly become obvious to visitors. The greens are tightly bunkered, offering small targets that have the speed and contours to test the nerve when putting. A policy of continual improvement has resulted in Mount Lawley being recognised as one of the best conditioned courses in the state.

Through the years, the club has played host to several Western Australian Opens and national championships, and in 2000 will host the Australian Women's Amateur Championship.

In June this year, the club moved into its new clubhouse. Designed in a federation style typical of the surrounding suburbs, the building offers modern facilities in a comfortable setting. As a Mount Lawley 'signature', the clubhouse has drawn wide acclaim from visitors and is a great source of pride for the members.

Mount Lawley extends a warm welcome to all participants in the 1999 Interstate Teams Matches, and wishes competitors the best of luck and good golfing.

MELVILLE GLADES GOLF CLUB

The Melville Glades Golf Club is one of the youngest golf clubs in Perth, having been developed following an initiative launched at a meeting of local residents in May 1966. The land in Leeming was leased from the Melville Town Council, with work on clearing then being commenced in September 1967. The course, designed by Al Howard, was built by the members themselves, and fees were paid in the full knowledge that it would be some years before play was possible. Both the course and the clubhouse, which was built by member Cyril Wildy, were opened in May 1969.

During its brief history, the club has had to overcome some difficult periods, however, during the past 10 years in particular, there has been considerable emphasis placed on the development of the course, to the point where it is now acknowledged as being one of the best in Perth. With Bent greens, and tees and fairways of Wintergreen couch, its 6017-metre, par 72 layout accommodates the needs of all of the club's 1,200 members, whilst still presenting a challenge to the very best of them.

Plans are currently underway to redevelop the clubhouse from its current style in order to accommodate the needs of the members in the immediate future, and it is expected that that redevelopment will be undertaken during 2000.

The club has in the past hosted a number of state events, whilst the Western Australian Champion of Champions event is conducted annually in conjunction with the Melville Glades Amateur Open Championship.
